

Chemicals

We regularly represent domestic and foreign companies belonging to the chemical industry, including diversified chemicals manufacturers and specialty chemical companies. Our experience in this industry is extremely broad, ranging from inbound and outbound M&A, joint ventures, the launch and termination of business alliances, environmental regulations and other regulatory and compliance matters, import and export controls and disputes. We efficiently address those various matters by assembling the most appropriate lawyers in our firm.

Recently, in Japan, the petrochemical industry has been facing a pressing need to restructure, mainly due to the decrease of domestic demand and increase of production in overseas ethylene plants. We have extensive experience in M&A and other relevant transactions stemming from business restructuring in the petrochemical industry.
